

常用指法表

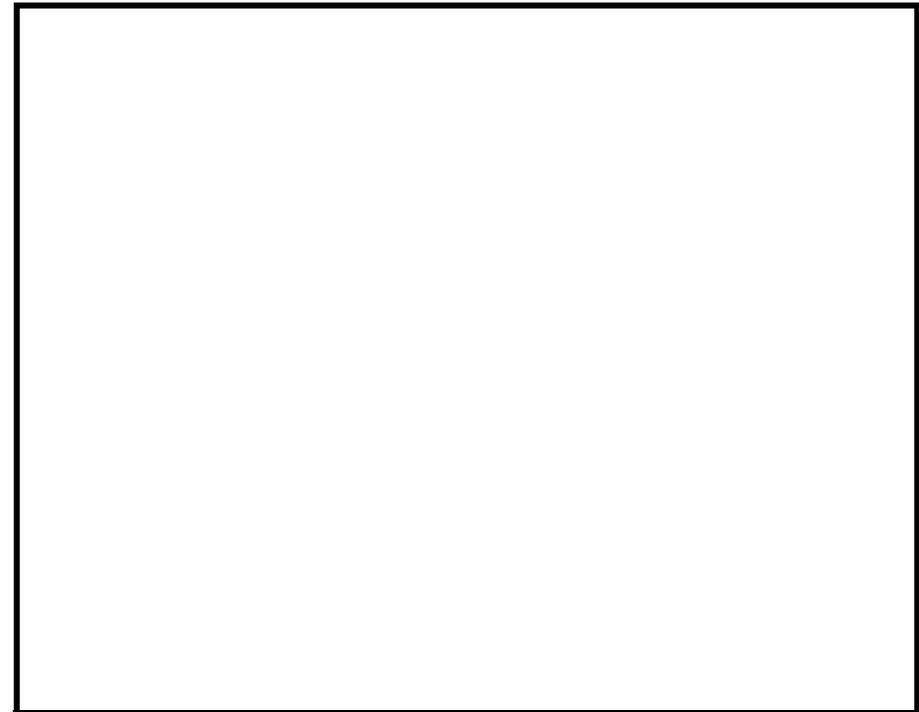

The image displays a common fingering chart for the recorder. It consists of two rows of musical notation on a treble clef staff, each with corresponding recorder diagrams below. The first row shows notes C, D, E, F, F#, G, A, and Bb. The second row shows notes B, C', D', E', F', F#, and G'. Each recorder diagram has dots on the left side (labeled '左') and circles on the right side (labeled '右') to indicate which finger holes should be covered for each note.
